THE 3 PILLARS OF IAQ

HAVEN has the unique ability to manage the three pillars of IAQ through airflow, detection, and automation.

Helps capture harmful airborne particles on a whole-home scale, unlike room air purifiers, which only service one room at a time. Without effective filtration, PM build-up can damage critical organs including the heart and lungs.

Proper ventilation replaces stale air with new outdoor air: removing any built up chemicals from off-gassing, and CO2 from breathing. Chemical build up in the body has been linked to liver, kidney, and nervous system damage.

Optimizing temperature and humidity is key for human health, as well as limiting microorganism and virus survival.

FOUNDATION

Without airflow, the equipment that manages these 3 pillars can't function effectively.

HOW HAVEN WORKS

1

The Central Air Monitor is installed in the duct of a customer's home, where it tracks filtration, ventilation, relative humidity, and airflow.

2

The Central Air Controller activates HVAC equipment automatically, ensuring proper filtration and circulation of the home's air based on real time readings from the Monitor. The two work together to 'supercharge' any ducted HVAC system & IAQ accessory through an added layer of intelligence to go beyond comfort.

3

The HAVEN Pro Web Portal provides HVAC Professionals with access to homeowner data and insights as well as the knowledge and tools they need to provide clean air services for their customers, year round.

4

The HAVEN IAQ App provides homeowners with the peace of mind that HAVEN is automatically responding to IAQ events, worry free.
